Financial Aid and Scholarship Assistance

- Hartford Seminary financial scholarship assistance is available to applicants with demonstrated financial need in the following programs: Doctor of Ministry, Master of Arts, Cooperative Master of Divinity, Islamic Chaplaincy Program (72 credits), and Islamic Chaplaincy Graduate Certificate (24 credits). Note: Special Students, applicants to the Professional Ministries Study Program, and Graduate Certificate students are not eligible for Hartford Seminary financial aid.
- Hartford Seminary has its own financial aid application that must be completed. To request a financial aid application, please contact the Admissions Office as noted above or visit the website at www.hartsem.edu. Could you include here instructions on how to get to the financial aid instructions and application from the online forms center?
- Students applying for admission to the M.A. may submit applications for merit-based awards. Merit scholarships recognize a student's academic aptitude and potential: the deadline is Feb 1st and students must maintain better than a 3.5 grade point average. Separate application available on this page (<http://www.hartsem.edu/academic/financialaid.html>) on our website.
- The deadline for first round consideration for financial aid for the upcoming academic year is June 1. Financial aid applications received after June 1 will be considered if funds are available.
- Students are required to maintain a better than B- (2.66) G.P.A. to remain eligible for financial aid. Students must reapply for financial aid each year. Students are not guaranteed financial aid even if they received aid the previous year.
- Students may also be eligible for privately funded student loan programs. For more information please refer to The Educational Resources Institute, Inc. at www.teri.org or Connecticut Higher Education Supplemental Loan Authority at www.Chesla.org. Scholarship assistance may also be available from your faith community/denomination.
- Federal Stafford Loans: Domestic matriculated students in good academic standing in one of Hartford Seminary's Degree Programs, and who are registered for at least 6 credits, may also apply for Federal Stafford Loans through the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program. Free Application for the Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), is available online at www.fafsa.ed.gov.

Hartford Seminary policy prohibits discrimination against any individual on the basis of race, sex, sexual orientation, religious creed, color, age, national or ethnic origin, ancestry, marital status, present or past history of mental disorder, mental retardation, learning disability or physical disability including, but not limited to, blindness or veteran status, or any other reason prohibited by an applicable law or regulation in the employment of faculty, staff, and students; in the recruitment and admission of students; and in the operation of all Seminary programs, activities, and services. Additionally, the Seminary will not condone acts of violence or harassment reflecting bias or intolerance of any of the above mentioned classes. Evidence of practices that are inconsistent with this policy should be reported to the Office of the Dean.
